LAWRENTIAN PLATFORM

1. Greater expression of student loyalty to institutions and traditions of the college.
2. Fair and impartial presentation of news and opinions relating to campus problems and activities.
3. The construction of a more dignified plan of opening the fraternity "rushing" season.

HOMECOMING

It is probable that the two greatest celebrations Lawrence will enjoy this year are crowded into this one week of November 3-9. The new Alexander gymnasium has been dedicated, and now, with less than a week's breathing spell, the campus is ready to welcome and entertain hundreds of alumni of the college, who are returning for Homecoming.

Homecoming is and should be one of the biggest events on any campus. At no other time during the year does school spirit mount to such heights. Homecoming is the only time when old friends among the alumni are able to get together and re-live their undergraduate days for a few hours. Then too, on no other college holiday is such a wide program of events planned—parade—frolic—football game—pep meetings—dance. It seems that these several events have practically become a part of the annual celebration.

Homecoming is "a carnival of pageantry", and we agree with Dr. Glenn Frank in that this spirit of pageantry is needed in the American college.

ATTEND THE DANCE

By a voluntary vote of the committee, the proceeds of the Homecoming dance will be turned over to the athletic association. It is well known that the association can use money, as the deficit has not decreased much in the last few weeks.

Thus students who attend the dance will be doing double duty—if attendance at a dance in the new Alexander gymnasium can be called a duty. They will be supporting the college Homecoming celebration, and they will be helping the Lawrence athletic association.

We can dance at the various roadhouses in the vicinity of Appleton any time, but there is only one homecoming dance in a year.

Tea Given In Honor Of Dr. Rollo W. Brown

About 30 students, several faculty members, and Dr. and Mrs. Wriston heard more of Dr. Rollo Walter Brown's experiences at a tea given by Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Clippinger at their residence Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Brown told of some of his experiences in searching for biographic material. "Most people have the unhappy faculty of looking for material where it is least likely to be found," he said. "Original sources usually are people who personally knew the subject, therefore they are the best places to go for information."

Prof. Clippinger was a former student of Dr. Brown. He studied composition and rhetoric under the famous writer as a student in Wabash College, Indiana.

SCOLAR WILL GIVE RECITAL

Invited To Present Two Concerts In Chicago This Month

David Scoular, '30, student of Carl J. Waterman, is the recipient of singular distinction as a soloist, in having been given invitations to sing two concerts this month before Chicago audiences.

His first appearance was made Thursday, November 7, when he was a guest artist at an afternoon musicale at the Southmoor hotel, where he gave a full program of songs. This musicale was sponsored by the Southshore Country club of Chicago, and was presented at the meeting of the Women's club. On Monday afternoon, November 18, he will again sing a complete program, this concert to be given at the Plaisance hotel, under the auspices of the Berwyn Women's club.

At both concerts, Everett Roubush, '29, who is studying piano at the Chicago Musical college, will be the accompanist.

Alumni Meeting Held At Milwaukee Yesterday

SELECT TWELVE FOR LAWRENCE DEBATE TEAM

Final Trials Held Wednesday;
Coach Franzke To Arrange Schedule

Twelve men were chosen to represent Lawrence in intercollegiate debate as a result of the trials held in main hall Wednesday afternoon.

Of the 20 who were trying for a place on the team, those who were selected are: Irwin Marquardt, Robert Beggs, William Morton, Dan Hopkinson, all '31, Edwin West, Stanley Greene, Marcus Plant, all '32, David Fulton, Henry Connor, Merlin Pitt, Marshal Wiley, Ken Johnson, all '33.

Judges for the contest included Dr. A. A. Trever, Prof. W. L. Crow, Rexford Mitchell, Norman Knutzen, and Gordon Clapp.

All of the men now on the team except the freshmen have experience in collegiate forensics; Beggs and Morton were in the trio that made the successful western invasion last spring.

Prof. A. L. Franzke, debate coach, left for Milwaukee this morning to attend a meeting of the state forensic coaches at which a schedule will be arranged for appearance of the college debaters before high schools in Wisconsin.

The schools with whom Lawrence will compete are Ripon, Carroll, Milton, Beloit in the state, and meets with several other colleges may be arranged.

Resolved, "that the United States should adopt a policy of national disarmament," is the issue to be debated.

Miss Fretts Is Now Dean At Ohio University

Mary Helen Fretts, who was assistant professor of English and assistant dean of women at Lawrence two years ago, now holds a similar position in the English department of Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, according to a letter received by Miss Edna Wiegand. For the past two years she has been studying at Columbia University and at Oxford.

Denyes Elected Dean Of Local Religious School

Dr. J. R. Denyes has been elected dean of the Appleton Religious leadership school which meets in Main hall every Monday night at 7:00 o'clock. There are eight meetings remaining on the schedule. Although only two meetings have been held, the organization already has an enrollment of 120 members.

'Outward Bound' Director Has Wide Dramatic Experience

By Bertha Greenberg

With his experience including the dramatic direction of the productions of the Town and Gown Play Shop of Northwestern university and of the spring blossom festival of southern Michigan, Frederick T. Cloak has begun his work at Lawrence campus as dramatic director of Sunset productions. With the presentation of "Outward Bound" on Nov. 21, he will have completed the direction of the first Sunset play this year.

Studied At Northwestern

Upon receiving his degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1925 from Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn., Mr. Cloak's interest in dramatics led him to enter the school of speech at Northwestern university in the fall of the same year. At Northwestern he studied under Alexander Dean, then head of the dramatic department and now assistant to George Pierce Baker at the Yale School of drama, and in 1927 he was granted the degree of Master of Arts.

During his first year at Northwestern he was production manager of the Evahston Children's Theatre, a project connected with the public school system of Evanston under the direction of the Northwestern School of Speech, the purpose of the theatre being to produce plays for children.

The following year he was director of the Town and Gown Play Shop, an organization where plays, written by members of the class in play-writing, are produced. Of such high calibre are these plays that agents of Chicago and New York producers view them as possible future city productions. Two of the three plays presented that year under the direction of Mr. Cloak have since been published by the Samuel French Co.

Had Wide Experience

In 1927, having received his M.A., he became an instructor in play direction and associate director of the Northwestern university theatre. That year he directed "The Undercurrent" written by Fay Ehlert, then an advanced student in the school of speech. The play was entered in the Drama League Contest in the spring of 1928, winning first place. Since then it has been running in the Radio Keith Orpheum circuit, playing first class houses from San Francisco to New York and receiving excellent comments from reviewers.

Last year Mr. Cloak made a special study of high school dramatics at Benton Harbor, Mich., and in the spring of 1929 he directed the Blossom pageant of Southern Michigan.

BOOK NOTES

These books are available at the college library.

"Early Candlelight", by Maud Hart Lovelace, author of "The Black Angles". A story with a setting near home. It deals with frontier life in Minnesota a hundred years ago. The central theme is the dramatic romance of Delia De Goy, a daughter of the voyageurs.

The Wisconsin authoress in this book dips into the realm of abnormal psychology in telling about Marier Manchester who unconsciously seems to have a bad influence on people. Believing herself to be evil Marier struggles to be good.

"Galaxy" by Susan Ertz. A best seller characterized by Hugh Walpole as "the cleverest novel produced in England so far this year."

"Unraveling of the Book of Books" by E. R. Trattner. The romantic story of the men who overthrew superstition and studied the Bible scientifically. It answers the question of Biblical authorship.

Dr. Denyes Is Elected Kiwanis Club Leader

Dr. John R. Denyes was elected president of the Appleton Kiwanis club at the regular business meeting held at the Conway hotel Wednesday noon. The Appleton division of the club was organized five years ago with Dr. Denyes as one of the charter members. He has been a member of the board of directors since that time and has now been honored by his election to the presidency.

Prof. F. W. Clippinger is attending the state teachers' convention at Milwaukee.

pathy in a sense of pity, but sympathy which affords one close and intimate contact with the subject. It is necessary to know the minor details of a man's life before you can decide that life for your subject seemed to rest always upon a thin thread," Mr. Brown explained.

Basil King An Example

The speaker used Basil King as an example of a man whose destiny always rested upon a mere word or two, and whose success always followed the completion of some unpremeditated detail. He showed how Basil King was at one time on the point of leaving his story "The Inner Shrine" uncompleted. A second thought prompted him to speak again with the editor, and it was printed.

Raphael Pompelli seemed to go all through life having his destiny determined by a chance happening. His theory that ancient cities were interred in some remote hills of Asia prompted him to investigate. Remains of several civilizations were found as a result of his "hunch".

"The best pictures by George Bellows were of his wife and family, and it is strange to note that he "persevered" for six years before he was accepted by the girl who became his wife.

Whistler, a "Dandy"

On Thursday Mr. Brown used James M. Whistler to show that interesting biographies are often the result of bringing out a part of a man's life or character hitherto unknown to the public. He showed how Whistler was once regarded as a "dandy", and could not have himself taken seriously by an American public, and then went on to bring out the serious part of the artist's character as found in some letters. He showed how Whistler devoted himself to art and made it his "religion", how he really was a man of keen intellect and deep character.

Abraham Lincoln, as a radicalist, as a man who was bitterly criticized by the people of his time, and as a man upon whom the cares of the world weighed heavily, was presented by Mr. Brown. The speaker showed how it was possible to dig out the differ-

Seventy Star Gazers Sign Observatory Log

More than 70 visitors signed the new visitor's logbook at the Underwood observatory, one evening recently, and took advantage of an ideal night to view the constellations and planets.

While some visitors looked through the telescope, others used the roof of the observatory; which offers a splendid view at night, to observe the wider heavens.

The double stars, Polaris, the North star, and Mizar, were viewed with the greatest interest. Mizar, which is just visible to the unaided eye is seen through the telescope to be composed of one white and one emerald star. The brighter component of this pair has been shown to be "spectroscopic" that is, double itself, but no telescope is powerful enough to distinguish them.

The planet, Jupiter, was plainly seen with four of its nine moons. Pleiades and the Moon were also clearly seen and enjoyed.

ent side of a man's life by persistent study and inquisitiveness, and by browsing in the works of Lincoln rather than in what other biographers had written about him.

Lincoln Unpopular

It was shown how Lincoln proposed women suffrage in 1836 and in 1842 favored prohibition and also the abolition of slaves, how he was regarded as a radicalist during his presidency and how one Ohio town actually celebrated his death.

"It is the incidental detail of a man's life that goes to make an interesting biography," he said in closing.

Dr. Baker Talks To Rural Teachers

Lectures and Conducts Class In Teaching Methods At Portage

Speaking to a group of 250 rural school teachers at Portage, Saturday, November 1, during the fall Institute of the Columbia County Teachers' Association, Dr. Earl L. Baker, head of the Public School Music department of the conservatory, lectured and conducted demonstrations on methods of teaching music.

Some of the subjects and problems discussed are: the teaching of a rote song, care of the monotonic child, the beginning of sight-reading, development of musical intelligence, musical listening, beginning of individual singing, and the choice of material to be taught in the rural schools. Supervised music was also advocated, as leading to uniformity of development and a standard of achievement.

Dr. Baker used groups of teachers for demonstration purposes, treating each group as though it were a typical eighth grade one-room rural school, and taught them music just as it is taught in such schools.

Basketball Candidates To Begin Practice Monday

DENNEY ISSUES CALL; SCHEDULE IS ARRANGED

Viking Prospects Good; Drills To Be Held In New Gymnasium

By Austin Stegath

With gridiron activities drawing to a close tomorrow, students will turn their attention to the basketball courts. Coach Denney has issued a call for basketball players to report either on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week depending on how soon the locker rooms in the new gymnasium will be ready for occupancy. Painters have been putting on the finishing coats and with the exception of a few slight alterations, the gym should be in condition for the early part of next week.

Last year the Denney team finished up the season with a .500 percentage in both loops, being tied with Carroll for second place, in the Little Four and in a four way tie with Monmouth, Ripon, and Hamline for fourth position in the Midwest conference. Handicapped by injuries and ineligibilities, the Vikes had a hard time getting under way, but once off, they sailed through the last few games with decisive wins.

Prospects are excellent this year for a top notch team. With the new gym, Coach A. C. Denney will not have to travel over to the armory every time he wants to drill his men and will be able to have more time and space in which to teach his squad the essential points of his system. Not a man was lost last year through the graduation route and most of the men this year are juniors. Some of the veterans who will don uniforms next week are Slavik, Biggers, Pierce, Schneller, Remmel, Rasmussen, Jackola, Laird, Fischl, and St. Mitchell.

Lawrence-Ripon Grid Feud History Dates Back To 1893

By Roy Sample

When the Vikings do battle with Ripon tomorrow, they will be favorably supported by the history of a 36 year old feud. In the course of this warfare, Lawrence has won 16 games, lost 9, and tied three times—only one of these being scoreless. The Vikings have collected the neat sum of 302 points as compared to Ripon's 127.

First Football Game

The initial encounter with the Indians in 1893 was the first football game Lawrence ever played. The majority of plays were bone-crushing wedges going through center and the blue had to knuckle under to a 6-24 score. The succeeding year, Lawrence again dropped a 4-22 decision to the Redmen in a clash that was "foul and rough from the start to finish." Athletic relations with Ripon were suspended until the next year when the Viking lust for battle overcame reasoning. Again in 1895, the superior teamwork of Ripon secured a 6-16 victory for them. The next game in 1899 was a 6-6 tie; the Blue's inability to win was attributed to the short 20 minute halves.

The 1901 game was the first Viking victory over Ripon. The feature attraction of the day was the referee, a Ripon professor, who was at a loss to rule one way or the other in regard to a fumble. The final count was 24 and 6. In the 1902 contest Lawrence came through with an 11-6 victory.

String of Wins

The Lawrentian of 1903 reveals that "Ripon's championship aspirations were considerably dampened when they met our boys". As our boys dampened, they garnered 24 points while holding Ripon scoreless. The records are missing for 1905 but Lawrence rolled over Ripon to the tune of 59-0. In 1906, Lawrence of a 59-0 score. In 1906, Lawrence made 312 yards over against Ripon's 160. Then just to be different, the Blue and White accepted a 6-18 defeat as the Lawrence band played "Lads of Lawrence".

1907 saw a reversal of the score. Ripon was held twice on the Blue's 3 yard line and the final tally was 12-0. There was no game in the succeeding year because of an ineligibility controversy incited by a yellow Ripon bulletin charging professionalism. The Catlinmen in 1910 released a 10-8 game to the Redmen during which a Lawrence guard was taken from the game mentally deranged.

Abrahamson of Lawrence made a touchdown in the first 10 seconds of the 1911 game when the Blue pounded out a 13-0 win. In the 1912 clash which accorded a 7-0 tally to Lawrence, the game was scoreless until a Viking back went over on the famous spread play in the third quarter.

The two teams were submerged in a sea of mud in 1913. Ripon neglected to come up for air and was dealt the naught; end of a 12-0 count. 1914 was a crucial year: no college had crossed the Viking goal line for four years; for the six preceding years the rivals had met in a raging blizzard. The final score stood 12 and 2 in favor of the Blue.

Lawrence Loses—1915

Snow fell in the 1915 clash and so did Lawrence. The 7-0 defeat marked the first time that Lawrence had lost to Ripon on our home field for ten years. Two successive breaks in the 1916 conflict gave another game to Ripon with a 13-0 decision. In 1918, a reversal of last year's score occurred when Ripon was set down in a blizzard with a 24-0 defeat. Although Ripon failed to make first downs in the first half of the 1919 game while Lawrence made seven, the Blue and White again manifested their originality by taking a 20-7 shut out from the Redmen.

The 1920 score of Ripon's Homecoming was 22 and 3 with the Indians taking the bitter end. In 1921, with the score 3 and 0, and with 4 minutes left to play, Lawrence rushed the ball over from the 20 yard line by straight line plunging. The high light of the 1922 game resulting in a blue and white victory was Kotal's 95 yard run from kick-off in the second half.

Nason Boots One

The Vikings repeated in 1923 with a 17-0 score, but the next year the score went to a 7-7 tie. In 1925, Nason's "Golden Toe" in booting a 30 yard dropkick was responsible for Lawrence's only score of the 3-0 game. Briese's dropkick in the 1926 contest hit the crossbar and the tie was scoreless. In the course of the 1927 game, failure to kick goal after a spectacular drive cost Lawrence a tie; the concluding count was 6 and 7.

Last year, the Vikings assisted in the Ripon Homecoming, and could do no better than hold Ripon to a 24-0 score. The Vikes are going out tomorrow in a vengeful mood determined to justify history of Lawrence-Ripon grid rivalry.

Former Athletes Are Grid Mentors

Survey Shows That Many Old Viking Stars Are Successful Coaches

Although Lawrence college does not have a coaching or physical education course listed on its curriculum, many graduates have made good in both fields. A recent survey has disclosed the huge success of the Denney program of inter-college sports and intra-murals. This has served to prepare those interested in physical education and coaching and at the same time offer the student liberal arts study.

A check up of former prominent Lawrence athletes reveals that more than half have attained success as gridiron mentors. It is interesting to note that many of these in football as well as other sports have usually been successful in the same field while attending school.

Some of the positions held by past blue and white luminaries on physical education staffs of colleges and universities are: the former head basketball coach at the University of Iowa, director of athletics at Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., member of the physical education staff in Wesleyan University, Middleton, Conn., and director of athletics at Kansas Wesleyan, Salina, Kansas.

The appeal of athletics to others may be found in fields ranging from the position of sports editor of a big city daily which is held by a former Viking football captain to state director of physical education in Michigan. Such stars as Kotal and Briese may be found distinguishing themselves on professional gridiron teams in a manner similar to that which made them famous while at Lawrence.

other linesmen were sent against the swinging deadhead for almost an hour.

Same Lineup

The Viking squad, which so far this season has been unable to function consistently, will undergo no changes from the squad that faced Hamline last Saturday. The backfield will probably consist of Fischl at full, Trankle and Rasmussen at half, and Barnes at quarter. The line, with Captain St. Mitchell and Laird at the ends will present its strongest front. Paul Miller, the big blonde who snared a pass and lumbered 82 yards for a touchdown against Hamline, will hold down the pivot post, and flanking him at the guards will be Voecks and Krohn, with Vincent in reserve. Bickel will be at one tackle post and Schneller or Hovde at the other.

SIG EPS LOSE TO D.I. NETMEN

Five Sets Necessary To Determine Winner; Psi Chis Cop Third

After dropping the first two sets to the D. I's, 6-4, 6-2, the Sig Eps came back strong to capture the next two sets 1-6, 2-6, only to lose the deciding match 6-1, and the D. I's carried off the inter-fraternity tennis championship at the Y. M. C. A. courts yesterday. In the consolation, the Psi Chis trounced the Theta Phis 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Barnes paved the way for a D. I. victory by cool playing and well executed shots. Things looked bad for the Sig Ep pair, McRae and Stegath, until they opened up a bombardment of baseline shots. Negrescou, Barnes' teammate wobbled under the attack and the Sig Eps soon evened up the set count.

However, the going seemed a little heavy and McRae and Stegath cracked, being able to snare only one game of the closing set. McRae played a consistent game and showed promise of making things hot on the courts next year, but Stegath was the Sig Ep mainstay.

By virtue of their victory the D. I's will receive 75 points in the supremacy race while the Sig Eps get 50. Third place and 25 points went to the Psi Chis, who won the consolation.

Lawrence	.667	.333
Ripon	.500	1.000

Ahoy there Riponites! The good ship Viking having weathered last week's storm is now bound, sails spread, for port "Championship".

Men who will don their mole-skins for the last time are captain Gib St. Mitchell, Bobbie Rasmussen, Tiny Krohn, Ray Brussat, galloping Gelbke, Cully Voecaks, and Hank Wiegand. These fellows as well as the rest are going to give old Lawrence all they've got!

From all the "bear" stories that reach us, Ripon will be bringing its team on stretchers. However, we are taking off our hats to the Indians for stepping out of their class to meet such Big Ten teams as Chicago, Minnesota, and our own Wisconsin.

"Red" Martin who has been a thorn in every team's defense which Ripon has played is going to find some stiff competition in the "Flying Dutchman". Martin has been the bulwark of the Ripon offense and defense while Fischl has been reeling off run after run as well as pounding his way through for a few yards when it was most needed by the Rasmussen team. Last week he was laying low to favor his injured hip, but this week — WATCH HIM GO!!

The frosh have had to keep a nightly vigil on their boxes because of some pre celebrators. They are going to have a huge pile tonight and when they touch it off—"There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight".

What would the Carnegie Foundation say about Lawrence if they knew that they were playing for a set of books valued at $500? Subsidized athletes???

Remember last year Carroll came here doped to trample the Vikings under and barely managed to take home a tie.

Let's get Ripon! What do you say?!!

LAWRENCE HAS CLEAN SLATE IN MIDWEST RACE

Redmen Undefeated In Both Conferences; Vikes Second
In Big Four

Midwest Standings

	W	L
Coe	2	0
Ripon	1	0
Carleton	2	1
Cornell	1	2
Monmouth	0	1
Hamline	0	2
Beloit	0	3

Should the Vikings take Ripon into camp in their annual battle Saturday they would be assured of at least a tie in the Midwest and Big Four conferences. At present the Vikes lead the Midwest in company with Coe, Ripon and Knox with two wins against no defeats. In the Big Four, the Vikings are tied with Carroll for second place with a win and a loss.

Ripon at present leads the state conference with a single win over Carroll against no losses. Carroll has completed its Big Four season with a win over Lawrence and a loss at the hands of Ripon for a .500 average. The Pioneers do not meet Beloit on the grid this season. Ripon has yet to meet Coach Jaggard's Beloit aggregation, and should she lose to Lawrence and win from Beloit the Indians would end the season with two wins and one defeat, and Lawrence, in the same vein, would also have two wins and a loss, IF they win from Ripon.

Tie in Midwest

In the Midwest league there are four teams at present that have a 1.000 percentage, Coe, Knox, Ripon and Lawrence. If the Vikings defeat the Redmen they would end the season with three wins and no losses, and the Redmen would have at least one loss to take them out of the consideration. Coe has two Midwest victories to its credit and has yet to meet Carleton and Knox on November 9 and 16 respectively. Should Coe be successful in its last two Midwest tilts that would eliminate Knox from consideration and the season would end with Coe having won four victories with no losses as against Lawrence's three wins and no defeats, hence a mathematical tie for first place.

Principals In Vike-Ripon Clash

Set Of Books At Stake As Well As Title In Tomorrow's Big Battle

Minnesota and Michigan may have their "little brown jug" to fight for when they meet, but Lawrence and Ripon will be going them one better when they clash Saturday. Besides settling the championship of the Big Four and Midwest conferences the winner will receive a set of books.

An anonymous donor who is a close friend of both schools has declared that he will award the college winning Saturday's aggray a set of twelve books of the Smithsonian Institute scientific series. These books are bound in red leather, stamped and embossed with heavy taffeta inside covers. The books are valued at $500.

Frosh Hockey Team Defeats Seniors, 6-0

The freshman hockey team defeated the seniors Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. Through this victory they are still in the race for first place with the juniors, whom they tied, 1 to 1, in a game last week.

Goals were made as follows: Winifred Lockard, L., 3; and Alice Bradford, c.f., Helen Snyder, r.i., and Evelyn Nicolaion, L., each 1.

During the first half the seniors were unable to make a threat at all, but in the last period they improved enough to come near the freshman goal several times. Norma Balgie, c.h., and Ida Turner, r.w., starred for the class of '30.

Yesterday afternoon the seniors played against the sophomores. Until then, neither of these teams had won a game. The juniors and sophomores will play next Monday.

Greek Volleyball Tourney Opened

Psi Chis, Sig Eps, and D.I.s
Win In First Games
Tuesday

The lid on the Greek volleyball kettle was pried off Tuesday night, and out stepped the Sig Eps, Psi Chis and D.I.s with their first triumphs of the year. After copping the first game on the evening's card from the Psi Chis, the Betas minus the services of Jackola, dropped the two final tilts, 15-6, 15-9. The work of Seifert for the Psi Chis was outstanding, while Jackola played consistently in the first contest before leaving the game.

A strong Sig Ep lineup led by Phenece and Parker breezed through a pair of wins over the Delta Sigs, 15-9, 15-4, and established themselves as championship contenders by their smooth play. After holding their opponents 10 to 9 in the first fray, the Delta Sig defense cracked and the Sig Eps scored almost at will thereafter.

The D.I.s, with Steinberg and Rasmussen going great guns, tore through a rather feeble Phi Tau lineup to win in straight games, 15 to 6, 15 to 4. The Theta Phis were idle Tuesday, but last night's schedule found them matched with the Betas, while the Sig Eps battled the Phi Taus and the Delta Sigs mixed things with the up and coming Psi Chi aggregation.

Seven Viking Warriors End Football Careers Tomorrow

When the Vikings trot out on Whiting Field Saturday afternoon to battle their ancient foe, Ripon, seven men on the squad will be wearing a Lawrence grid uniform into battle for the last time. Led by Captain St. Mitchell, four of these men are regulars on the Viking squad, and their loss will be keenly felt when the 1930 season gets under way.

St. Mitchell Finishes

St. Mitchell, at end, will end his collegiate career on the grid at the same post he attracted Catlin's attention in 1926. For three years the Viking captain has played brilliant ball, with the 1928 season regarded as his best.

Of the others, there are Voecks, Voecks, Rasmussen, Gelbke, Brussatt, Krohn, and Wiegand. The loss of Krohn, Voecks, and Wiegand, mainstays in the line, will leave gaps in the forward wall that will be difficult to fill. Krohn has been playing the kind of ball this season that made him the star of his freshman squad three years ago, and Voecks, with consistently brilliant work at a guard post, has earned the commendation of players on every squad he has faced. Wiegand has seen lots of action during his career at guard.

Backs Lost

The other three, Rasmussen, Brussatt and Gelbke, are fleet and brilliant backs. "Robbie," a regular for the first season, has been showing his best wares this year, being on the receiving end of many of Bloomer's passes last year, and Barnes' this year. Brussatt, a track star of the first magnitude, has been slow in rounding into form, but from the time of his entrance into a game he flashes the old track speed which has made him famous.

Gelbke, the last of the trio of backs to receive the sheepskin next spring, is a regular of the old Catlin days. The fiery little German is fast and shifty, and a brilliant pass receiver. His cool headedness on the field has steadied the Vikes considerably this season.

Legion Joins Hunt For Bodies of Roth, Bolton

The Oney Johnston post of the American legion is now co-operating with college students in an effort to find the bodies of Edmund Bolton and Carlton Roth, both '32, who were drowned two weeks ago in lake Winnebago.

The post has issued a call for more power boats to be used in combing the lake, believing that the bodies may have come to the surface.

Chamber of Commerce Aids Homecoming Plans

The Appleton Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the 1929 Homecoming committee in an attempt to make this year's re-union one of the most eventful in the history of the college.

A recent decision of the chamber was to request all merchants to decorate windows and store fronts with the blue and white of Lawrence, and the red and white of Ripon. The chamber also voted $15 to the Homecoming committee to be used for prizes for the Homecoming parade.

Miss Marguerite Woodworth is attending the state teachers' convention at Milwaukee.
